caused by lack of nutrition, the result of disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which seem remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

"I was in poor health when I commenced taking Doctor Pierce's medicines," writes Mr. Elmer Lawer, of Volga, Jefferson Co., Ind. "I had stomach, kidney, heart, and lung troubles. Was not salte to do say work. I had a severa cough and hemorrhage of the lungs, but after using your medicine a while I commenced to gain in strength and flesh, and stopped coughing right away. Took about six bottles of Golden Medical Discovery." I feel like a different person. I gladly recommend your medicine to all sufferers, for I know it cured me."

ROMANTIC TRAGEDY IN PRUSSIA Berlin was considerably excited last week on account of a duel at Insterburg, Esst Prussia, in which Lieut, Blaskowitz. of the army, was killed by Lieut. Hildebrand, also of the army. The military officials have not yet made a statement of the facts in the case, but the National Zeitung has obtained an authoritative account of the meeting, which is as follows: Lieut. Hildebrand and Rasmussen met Lieuts, Blaskowitz going home in a state of intoxication, going home in a state of intoxication, carried him to a spot near his residence and left him there. They returned to the spot later, however, and found Blaskowitz crouching against a wall, asleep, and tried to arouse him and get him upon his feet. Blaskowitz, nelog ignorant of the identity of the two men who were endeavoring to assist him, struck right and left in his semi-sommolent state, and hit Lieutenant Hildebrand. The latter considered himself insulted by the blow received, and reported the affair to the Court of Honor, which decided thats duel was unavoidable whereupon Lieutenant Hildebrand challenged Lieutenant Blaskowitz.

The latter, however, unconscious of what had occurred while he was intoxicated, went to Eylau the next day, to attend a party held at the house of a young lady whom he was to marry on the following day. When a telegram recalling him to meet Hildebrand was received, Besskowitz wanted to settle the matter with an apology, but the hig rest officers of the brigade and division sacrifored the fielding of the Court sion sanctioned the finding of the Court of Honor that a duel was necessary, and it decided in the manner already named.

success. It soothes the child, softe s the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for Diarrhoa. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle.
Its value is incalculable. Be sure star in the northern sky.

The star's atmosphere was violently disturbed, as shown by a study of its spectrom in the spring months, and since June, at least, the spectroscope has shown that it is now a nebula, though retaining to the eye and in the telescope the point-like form of an ordinary star.

A recent photograph secured by Prof. Perrine with the Crosley reflector recorded the phenominal features of the nebulous cloud. He compared his photograph with the Yerkes photograph of the same object, and made the interesting discovery that the the interesting discovery that the orightest portion of the nebula at least, and perhaps the nebula itself, had moved to the southeast more than one minute of arc in the past six weeks.

This observation is in every respec unique. Motion on this enormous has never been observed for any celest is morally certain that the observed phenomenon is closely related to the violent disturbances that gave birth to ne new star. TONS OF FOOD AT THE ALTAR OF DEATH. In Pekin on Saturday the foreign ministers went in a body, wearing plain mourning, to the late Li Hung Chang's yamen, and presented their condolences to the Chinese custom. secording to the Chinese custom. Cotness soldiers lined the streets near the yamen, and the great crowds which gathered in the streets and about the yamen were perfectly orderly. All the city officials received the ministers in the outer court. The coffin was in a spa-cious inner court, temporarily roofed. It rested on an altar behind a screen, and had over it a royal pail, conferred by the Emperor's command, an honor heretofore bestowed only on members of the imperial family. Many Buddhist priests were in attendance. There were rows of tables bearing offerings of food amounting to several tons and piles of paper money. Candles and incense were burned about the coffin, L were burned about the coffin, Li Hung Chang's two sons stood near the casket, attired in sackcloth. Before the screen was a cushion, where the Chinese callers made prostrations. The Chinese callers made prostrations. The ministers, however, stepped forward singly and bowed low. The dean of the diplomatic corps read an address of sympathy, to which the oldest sou of the deceased statesman replied in Chinese, the youngest son interpreting his words into English. The scene
